

Life and Career Coaching

---

Smith Edwards Group is committed to providing confidential coaching, guidance and a variety of consultation services to assist our clients in finding resolutions for their opportunities and challenges. Our life and professional coaching process is custom-designed for each client, which includes honest and confidential conversations.

We are certified to administer and facilitate 360 Assessments for Executives, Managers, and Self-Assessment Tools from the Center of Creative Leadership (CCL), a world-renowned leadership organization. Our process includes establishing a baseline and working with clients in the goal setting process that is intended to support our clients towards achieving their goals.

We are certified life coaches (International Federation of Coaches) and consultants who are here to support you on your personal journey or business challenge.

Need a change in life? Need a change in business plans? Let's start your journey today!

Book your appointment now or contact us for more information to begin the process for reaching your life and professional goals!

Contact us

Info@smithedwardsgroup.com